£32,000-£40,000 (dependant on experience)

Senior Transport Consultant

Who we are:

Momentum is a transport consultancy. As a dynamic and growing company our future is being built around a team of the very best people.

We are working on some of the most exciting and challenging development planning and infrastructure projects in the UK, Europe and across the world, from large commercial skyscrapers to sport stadiums and major events projects, we are leading the debate on smart servicing and autonomous vehicles, and are redesigning roads and streets that look to the future of transport.

Our ability to design and create public spaces, roads and streets, parks and plazas for people and communities sets us out as one of the UK's most highly regarded transport consultancies.

Our clients include major developers, architects, contractors and local authorities.

Our opportunity:

We have an opportunity for a Senior Transport Consultant with development planning experience on a full-time, permanent basis, based in Edinburgh. We strongly believe in giving our members of the team training, responsibility and opportunities they need to develop, and being part of a small team means that everyone is exposed to a wide variety of interesting project work and clients.

From day one the successful candidate would undertake a range of work across the transport planning environment both in the UK and overseas, including managing project workstreams and overseeing the preparation of Transport Assessments, meeting clients and design teams, negotiating with local authorities, report writing, forecasting and contributions to proposals and reports.

As we are growing our presence in Scotland, you will also help develop the Scottish business by building relationships, identifying and responding to opportunities.

Who you are:

You have between 2 and 6 years professional experience and will be a self-starter, love working in a small hard-working team and have a passion for the built environment and its challenges.

You will be forward-thinking and have ideas about sustainable solutions for the future of transport and mobility.

Specific skills and experience:

- Strong written and verbal communication skills
- Strong numeracy and analysis skills
- Solid Microsoft Office skills, in particular Word and Excel
- A relevant degree (e.g. Geography, Planning and Urbanism studies, Mathematics)
- Comfortable working on large data sets
- Project management experience
- Knowledge of the planning application process and transport related supporting documentation

What we offer you:

The opportunity to work with some of the best professionals in the industry. A competitive remuneration and benefits package, including bonuses. Targeted and specialised training and professional development. Access to Women in Transport membership (if applicable), weekly yoga sessions (currently delivered to all our offices on Zoom).

Next Steps:

If you are excited about this opportunity, please email a CV and covering letter explaining why you would be a great candidate for Momentum Transport Consultancy.
